Senate Leaders Face New Fight Over Postal Pay

Administration Chiefs Defeat Attempt to Override Veto by Single Vote

STERLING WANTS ACTION

New Measure Provides Simultaneous Increases in Rates and Pay

Washington, D. C. — Having succeeded in sustaining President Coolidge's veto of the postal pay increase by the margin of a single vote, administration leaders in the senate are faced now with another fight over postal affairs, with the bringing forward of the new measure for simultaneous increases in postal rates and postal pay.

Although leaders generally are agreed that the new bill has little prospect of passage at this session, Chairman Sterling of the post office committee has announced that he will press for action. Some of those who voted to override the veto of the pay bill at the same time declare the administration measure was brought forward as a smoke screen to prevent overriding the executive.

Chairman Sterling has put himself on record as of the opinion that the votes are available to pass the administration measure at this session, provided senators who fought to override the veto join him in his efforts. The vote to override late Tuesday was 55 to 29 and the change of a single vote would have given the two-thirds necessary to reverse the action of the president.

Ignorance

The ignorant man will show his lack of knowledge by ignoring his duty. Ignorance leads to idleness unless a man learns that it is his duty to dig. Little of mind begets business of obtaining and ignorance is hidden behind a show of knowledge.

Mistakes abound and truth is rarely found where ignorance is allowed to live. And the man who is satisfied in his lack of vision is in a worse plight than one who never had a chance to improve himself.

It's genuine hard luck to be ignorant of the opportunities among the Post-Crescent Classified Ads.

East Coast Cities Feel Earth Shock

By Associated Press
Boston, Mass.—An earth tremor lasting fifteen seconds and of considerable intensity was recorded at 8:07 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Harvard Seismographical station because of some storm or disturbance off shore at the time. It was not possible to estimate the distance of the tremor, officials said, but the direction was believed to be north.

The tremor was distinctly felt in Brockton, Haverhill, Lowell, Lawrence and along the north and south shores and in southern New Hampshire. Various reports timed it from 8:05 to 8:16 o'clock. A rumbling accompanying the shock sounded like thunder.

At Harvard observatory it was said that the phenomenon possibly was due to frost in the ground. Examination of the seismograph later would determine whether there had actually been an earthquake, it was said.

JURY HOLDS FATE OF MAN WHO SLEW FORMER SOULMATE

Prisoner and Woman Drank Moonshine Before Shooting, Testimony Shows

By Associated Press
Iron Mountain, Mich.—The fate of Joseph Zaja, charged with the murder on Oct. 8, of Mrs. Mary Garowich in a pool room here, went to the jury composed of 12 men at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The prosecution charges Zaja killed Mrs. Garowich, his former sweetheart, and then attempted suicide. On the witness stand, late Tuesday afternoon the accused testified that Mrs. Garowich came here on the night of Oct. 7, and that he was with her until midnight. She then retired with her sister, he stated, promising to see him the next morning.

The next morning, he testified, "I and Mary went down town where I purchased a gun for her which she wanted for protection against her husband."

Zaja then explained how the pair went to a poolroom belonging to Mrs. Golch, the woman's sister. There he said he told the woman "I am through with you. You are a married woman."

Then, according to his testimony, Mrs. Garowich reached under a counter where she had placed the pistol and shot him in the breast. He did not know, he testified, how the woman was killed, nor did he remember how he staggered out of the building.

Further on in his testimony, Zaja stated that he had more than thirty drinks of "moonshine whiskey" on the day of the shooting and that he and Mrs. Garowich had drunk a pint of the liquor together.

A night session of the court was held Tuesday night to enable the prosecution and defense to present their closing arguments.

WAR FINANCE BODY ISSUES RECORD CHECK

Scrip Amounting to $499,000,000 Is Paid into Treasury by Corporation

GREATEST DEAL IN HISTORY

Government Liquidates With Every Cent of Capital Stock Assured

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925 by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington, D. C.—The largest check ever drawn in the financial history of the world—at least nobody in the treasury department here remembers hearing of anything bigger—has just been deposited in the government archives.

It amounts to $499,000,000 and was paid to the treasury by the War Finance corporation after one of the most amazing financial operations in the history of the United States government. Congress has authorized $500,000,000 to be used as capital stock for the War Finance corporation which was to give financial support to industries necessary or contributory to the prosecution of the war. Later on it was authorized to make advances to the extent of one billion dollars to American exporters. This authority was exercised until the corporation's activities were suspended in May 1920 and the corporation was not revived until after a considerable controversy and over the veto of President Wilson.

ADVANCED 600 MILLIONS
Altogether the corporation has made advances since its beginning of about $890,000,000, half of which was under its war powers and the remainder for agricultural and livestock purposes. Of the aggregate amount advanced, only $52,823,000 is outstanding as loans. This means that the War Finance corporation not only will have received back the $500,000,000 worth of capital stock it had but will earn in addition more than $60,000,000. This is, however, not a profit but simply the return to the government of a sum equivalent to the interest cost. In other words if the government could have used the same $500,000,000 to pay off the public debt, the interest charges which the treasury has to pay on that amount of Liberty bonds for a certain period would have been saved. Actually the entire $500,000,000 was rarely in use at one time and in recent years the amount that the treasury has had to advance has grown smaller and smaller.

EVERY CENT COVERED
So all in all, the government liquidates with not only every cent of capital stock assured but with a fair return on its investment. The outstanding loans are all declared to be interest on the government funds.

Even the democrats who opposed the revival of the War Finance corporation now admit that it did a great work but some of them say the idea of government aid to finance enterprises in peace-time is bad in theory and never would have worked except for the extraordinary ability of Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director. Mr. Meyer modestly gives credit to the 300 or more bankers and leading citizens throughout the United States who acted on advisory committees and helped to pass on the local loans issued. Their services given free to the government could not have been duplicated except at a tremendous cost for they were all busy executives whose time meant money.

Interallied Finance Conference Underway

By Associated Press
Paris — The inter-allied financial conference which is generally expected to produce some of the knottiest negotiations since the armistice opened in the famous clock room of the foreign office at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon under the presidency of M. Clementel, the French finance minister.

The first sitting was to be taken up largely by the formal speeches of welcome and the replies, together with elaboration of the program and the organization of committees, the last named a formidable task upon the skilful accomplishment of which the success of the conference to a great extent depends.

Some idea of the complexity of the problems on the agenda may be gathered from the fact that a summary of the situation drawn up by one delegation covers 30 large closely printed pages.

The first thing the conferees will be called upon to do therefore, will be to decide whether to deal with every point, claim and counter claim in detail, or expedite procedure by grouping them as logically as possible. This latter method will appeal to the larger delegations but not perhaps to the defenders of small claims who will be desirous of the fullest opportunity of putting their respective cases before the meeting.

The unofficial conversations to which so much importance is attached began Tuesday between Premier Theunis of Belgium, Premier Herriot and Finance Minister Clementel, and were being continued Wednesday morning by a talk between M. Clementel and the British chancellor of the exchequer, Winston Churchill, at which it is understood the interallied debt problem will be exhaustively discussed in all its aspects.

While the magnitude of the task set for the conference is fully realized, relative optimism continued to prevail here not only that the financial tangle may be unravelled without undue friction, but that the unofficial negotiations may produce some way of offering at least a hope of solving the interallied debt problem.

SEEK MOTIVE FOR GIRL'S SUICIDE

SCOTT DENIES GAY PARTIES OF LAWMAKERS

Divorce Suit Adjourns to Allow Congressman's Wife to Collect Evidence

By Associated Press
Alpena, Mich.—With Mrs. Edna Scott preparing to gather additional evidence in her defense against the divorce action of Congressman Frank D. Scott of the Eleventh Michigan district and Mr. Scott himself resting here for a few days before resuming his duties at Washington, Alpena Wednesday was returning to a semblance of normal.

The suit which began last week, was adjourned abruptly Tuesday afternoon to permit Mrs. Scott to obtain additional depositions. Mr. Scott who charges his wife with extravagance Tuesday night denied that the picture of gay, bawdy parties among congressmen as painted by Mrs. Scott is an accurate one. He said their married life had been happy for eight years, a circumstance he attributed to the fact that they moved among congressional circles avoiding what he described as the "fast set" of Washington into which he charges, his wife later was precipitated.

The suit will be resumed before Judge Frank Emerick in circuit court here March 10. A February date at first was set but later was changed so that Mr. Scott might attend sessions of congress until March 1.

Governor Christianson delivered his address immediately after he had taken the oath of office as Minnesota's twenty-fourth chief executive. The oath was administered by Chief Justice S. B. Wilson of the state supreme court.

The joint session of the legislature also heard the farewell message of the retiring governor J. A. O. Preus, who has been in office four years. Governor Preus' address was a review of legislation during his administration.

LADD ISSUES DEFINITIVE TO COLLEAGUES IN RANKS OF REGULARS

South Dakota Senator Denies Right of Old Guard to Cast Out Insurgents

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Senator, Ladd of North Dakota, one of the few insurgent Republican senators read out of the party councils by the Republican senate conference has thrown down the gauntlet to his regular party forces with a challenge of their leadership and an arraignment of their policies as subversive of the true principles of Republicanism.

In a sharply phrased and lengthy address in the senate late Tuesday, the North Dakota senator assailed the "would be" leaders of his party as arrogantly setting themselves up as judges of party loyalty. Assuring the "young followers of the old Republican party have become the vanguard of the new Republican party," Senator Ladd declared that if to be a Republican meant he must subscribe to a party policy or surrender to "financial buccanniers" and "laity magistrates" he could not "qualify."

His assault on the regular party forces drew a defense of the senate conferees action, taken at his instance, from Senator Edge of New Jersey, who declared the test of party loyalty was in the support of the party candidate for president. Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho, then injected a little malice into the discussion by instancing the vote of "several senators" to override the president's veto of the postal pay bill as an example of party loyalty and asked "what is the test?"

Reference by Senator Ladd to the Roosevelt bolt and return to the party brought the concessions from Senator Edge that Republicans would welcome Senator Ladd back into the party if the reference was an indication of "your plans to march in line in the future."

Double Tragedy Occurs in Rooming House for University Women

MAN FOUND DEAD ON FLOOR

Letter Found in Pocket of Dead Man May Cast Light on Crime, Police Say

By Associated Press
Madison — F. X. Bernard, 32, of Hibbing, Minn., is dead and Miss Laura E. Palmer, 28, a university Romance language instructor whose home is in LaCrosse is dying at the Madison general hospital as a result of double shooting tragedy which occurred about 9:30 Wednesday morning in the rooming room of the French House, 1105 University-ave. The French House is a boarding and rooming house occupied by university women students who are taking the Romance language course at the University of Wisconsin.

Bernard was found lying dead on the floor by Mrs. Hanson, a cook at the French House a moment after he heard the report of the pistol. A shot hole was in his right temple and a .32 calibre revolver was clutched in his right hand.

Miss Palmer after being badly wounded by two shots fired through her abdomen and another through her arm, screamed for help and went to the hallway where she attempted to climb up the stairs.

Mrs. Hanson went after her and the girl collapsed in Mrs. Hanson's arms. Mrs. Hanson summoned police. A letter which was addressed to "Dear X" and which was found in an inside pocket of Bernard's coat which lay on the dayavenport in the receiving room, has been seized by police and it is said will play an important part in the investigation of the tragedy.

INVESTIGATE LETTER
The letter was signed "lovingly" but police declined to make known the name with which the letter closed. They said, however, that it was written in a feminine hand and said in effect that the writer was now back at school after the holidays and that "everything is going fine." The writer also informed "Dear X" that she was teaching 8 and 9 o'clock classes this coming semester. Miss Palmer was the chaperon at the French House.

District Attorney Philip La Follette began an investigation of the shooting shortly after it was reported to him. He went to the scene of the tragedy with Lieutenant Franklin Trostle.

Mrs. M. Hanson who came to Madison from Marshfield recently to cook at the French House said she knew nothing of the quarrel between Bernard and Miss Palmer until she heard the pistol shots.

Mrs. Hanson, however, declared that as Miss Palmer collapsed in her arms on the stairway, the girl said: "I helped him through school and now—" The body of the dead student has not been removed, pending the arrival of Coroner Joseph Stephenson.

WILL HOLD INQUEST
An inquest will be held to "bring out all of the facts in the case." District Attorney La Follette announced late Wednesday morning in the pockets of Bernard's clothing also was found a snapshot of Miss Palmer.

Miss Palmer told ambulance officers that Bernard had just returned to Madison but did not say from where, according to police.

Residents of the French House will be questioned by the district attorney's office as to any knowledge they may have of the affair. It was announced. They include Marjorie Bond, Jessie Corrick and Elva Bohmrich of Milwaukee; Beth Harrington, and Mary Hurlbert, Orem, Wis.; Arlene Olson, Green Bay; Estelle Perkins, Jefferson; Hazel Schulz, St. Louis; Mo. Genevieve Smith, Hinsdale, Ill.; Marjorie Overmyer, Albany, Mo.; LeRoy Benson, Beaver, Wis.; Grace France and Marie Doucet, Orleans, France.

Hibbing, Minn.—An older man seeking to court an extremely pretty girl who scorned him that is the story Hibbing residents told of F. X. Bernard who shot and seriously wounded Miss Laura Palmer, chaperon of French House at the University of Wisconsin, and killed himself.

ICE COMPANY STARTS ITS ANNUAL HARVEST

Saturday completed the first week of the 1925 ice harvest for local ice companies. If the weather conditions remain favorable the work will be carried on all next week, according to officials of Lutz Bros. Ice Co. The local company is cutting ice near Lehman's Landing on the upper Fox and will start on the lake next week. Because of the cold weather the ice harvest is being carried on much earlier than usual this year. This is one of the very few years that local companies were able to start the harvest between Christmas and New Years. The work was started on Jan. 20, almost four weeks later, last year and it has not been started in December for the last five years.

The ice is of exceptionally good quality this year and is about 18 inches thick. The harvest will not be as large as in the last few years in this locality because there is a large quantity left from last year.

USE OLD NUMBERS UNTIL AFTER FEB. 1 POSTMASTER ASKS

Zuehlke Asks Householders to Leave Up Old and New Numbers for a Time

With the distribution of house numbers to begin the middle of this week at the city hall, Postmaster William H. Zuehlke has issued a statement requesting all residents not to do away with the old numbers until Feb. 1. This is for the sake of avoiding confusion in the mails.

According to a decision of the common council, the new numbers are to be distributed in January, but are not to become effective until Feb. 1. That means that all old numbers are to remain in place until that date. Mr. Zuehlke asks that both the old and new numbers be attached to the houses, but that the old addresses be used until that time. Residents still have about four weeks in which to notify their correspondents of the new address that is to take effect on Feb. 1.

Business houses that will send out the regular monthly bills on the first day of February also are urged to use the old address at that time to facilitate the work of the mail carriers.

Salts Fine For Aching Kidneys

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year. adv.

IS THERE POLITICS IN SCHOOL AFFAIRS? LET'S SEE!

The board of education on Monday evening elected Ben J. Rohan superintendent of Appleton schools. The vote, five for Mr. Rohan and four for Mr. Rasey indicated that Mr. Rohan was not the unanimous choice of the board members, but he had a sufficient number of supporters to elect him. That should have ended it. Most people assumed that the incident was closed and there was no more to be said or done about it.

Two communications in the People's Forum on this page today indicate, however, that four of the men who voted to elect Mr. Rohan are not quite satisfied with what happened. They signed their names to two communications in which they defend themselves against alleged rumors and charges about them which have come to their attention. The communications indicate that four board members whose names are signed have been accused of wire pulling and of being subjected to outside influences; they give the impression that at least some people believe there was a nigger in the woodpile.

Inasmuch as the rumors and charges to which they refer have never been given newspaper publicity, this "newspaper" is somewhat at a loss to know just why they are so eager that a denial of them be printed. It is possible, however, that they are acting on the maxim that "forewarned is forearmed" and are endeavoring to bury the Ethiopian before someone exposes him to the public.

The denials which these four men have seen fit to have printed offer an opportunity for a little further scrutiny of this school controversy. At any rate, the communications have kept the discussion alive for another day and will not be amiss to speculate a little on the rumors and charges which the four board members deprecate.

It was interesting to note that of the five men who voted against Mr. Rasey and for Mr. Rohan, four are new members of the board, that is, they assumed office within the last year. They are Mayor John Goodland, George H. Packard, Fred R. Morris and Dr. C. E. Reinick. Only Joseph Mayer, who voted against Mr. Rasey, had extended experience with him. The other four members of the board, all of whom have worked with Mr. Rasey, some of them for long periods, supported him for the superintendency. It also is interesting to note that four of the five members opposed to Mr. Rasey are attached to the city hall in some official capacity.

Three members of the board of education, all of whom have official connections with the city, have taken pains to deny alleged rumors that their vote was influenced by Mayor John Goodland, and the mayor declares in his communication that he never in any way attempted to influence any member of the board to vote for Mr. Rohan. We believe that to be true. We don't believe Mr. Goodland, or anyone else, would make the tactical mistake of attempting to coerce any member of the board to vote for Mr. Rohan or for any one else. That would be crude politics to say the least. There are more astute ways of getting the same results.

Now for a little speculation. Mr. Goodland succeeded Henry Reuter as mayor of Appleton in April of 1924 and he took Mr. Reuter's place on the board of education. He also succeeded Mr. Reuter on the committee on teachers and texts of the board, probably its most important committee. He had about four months to learn what the duties of that committee were before it was necessary to appoint a new committee for the ensuing year. At the annual board meeting on the first Monday in August Mr. Goodland appointed three men to the committee on teachers and texts, with W. H. Kreiss of the First district as its chairman. A month later Mr. Goodland dismissed all his committees and made new appointments. He dismissed Mr. Kreiss as chairman of the committee on teachers and texts and appointed Mr. Packard, also of the First district in his stead. At the same time he increased the membership from three to five members. Mr. Goodland's explanation was that he had given too many chairmanships to First district board members and felt there should be a better distribution. Mr. Goodland has never explained, however, why he removed Mr. Kreiss of the First district from the chairmanship of the teachers and texts committee and appointed Mr. Packard, also of the First district to succeed him. Certainly that appointment did not take a chairmanship away from the First district. It merely gave it to another First district representative whose views on the school superintendency coincided more closely with those of the mayor. If that isn't politics then perhaps the mayor can explain just what it is.

Fred R. Morris, director of the Third district, was not on the original teachers and text committee appointed by the mayor. His name was included when the committee was revised. That Mr. Morris has had an antipathy against Mr. Rasey has not been a secret and it is not unreasonable to suppose that Mr. Morris' dislike for Mr. Rasey was not entirely unknown to the mayor when he made the appointment. That is another speculation.

Mr. Morris had a son attending high school and during the time Arthur Denney was coaching the football team the son was a member of the squad. He was dropped from the team by Mr. Denney for an infraction of rules and Mr. Rasey sustained the athletic director in his position and Mr. Rasey told Mr. Morris that he did so. Mr. Morris at one time suggested to a member of the board of education that a citizen's committee be appointed to supervise athletics at the high school, charging that the school authorities were inefficient and incompetent in their conduct of athletics. Mr. Morris' plan was rejected. When Mr. Goodland revised committees for the board of education he appointed an athletic committee, an unheard of procedure, and named Mr. Morris as its chairman. Principal Rasey objected to the committee on the ground that it was unnecessary and that the school executive should have complete charge of athletic affairs. The board of education sustained him and the athletic committee never functioned. Whether these events have had the effect of making Mr. Morris hostile to Mr. Rasey the reader may decide. Mr. Morris is Secretary of the Water Commission.

Far be it from The Post-Crescent to accuse George H. Packard, member from the First district, of playing politics. He has said that he did not and we are not going to take issue with him. However, it is hard to determine just whom Mr. Packard represents in this controversy. It is quite evident he did not represent his constituents in the First district. Someone else must have been the influence which brought about his vote for Mr. Rohan. It does seem somewhat strange, however, that a representative from the First district, if he had the interest of his district at heart, would vote for anyone else but Rasey. At a meeting of the Parent-Teachers association of the First district on Monday evening a resolution endorsing Mr. Rasey was adopted by a vote of 4 to 1. We believe that Mr. Rasey was the 4 to 1 choice of the residents of that district but Mr. Packard not only refused to permit the committee chosen for the purpose to submit the resolution but flatly refused to let it be read at the board of education meeting. Of course Mr. Packard was fair, he proved himself anxious to carry out the wishes of his district. His courtesy toward the committee and the resolution proves that. Maybe Mr. Packard can explain why he was representing in his vote, but we doubt it. Maybe he will run for school director again in the First district, where he represents one out of four citizens, but we doubt that too. Incidentally Mr. Packard is on the city payroll as a member of the water commission.

If city hall influence and city hall power was not brought to bear on Mr. Mayer to dictate his choice for superintendent of schools, it at last has been admitted that that power might be used in school matters. Mr. Mayer was opposed to the union school system and he was particularly opposed to having the referendum on adopting the city school plan conducted by the district school boards. He argued that the referendum should be conducted by the city council at a special election. The question was raised by one or more members of the board of education whether Mr. Mayer, as clerk of the Third district board, might refuse to call the election. One of the men whose signatures are on the communication in the People's Forum declared there was no cause for worry, for, he said, Mr. Mayer is a city employe and would do as he was told. Probably Mr. Mayer never had any intention of not calling the special meeting for the election, at any rate he called it. Perhaps Mr. Mayer never was interviewed by anyone in authority opposed to Mr. Rasey, but at any rate he voted for Mr. Rohan. Mr. Mayer is city weight master.

If Mr. Goodland's opposition to Mr. Rasey as superintendent of schools is based solely on the insinuation that Mr. Rasey did not have the city's interest at heart because he did not oppose the building of two junior high schools in one year, thereby adding a fixed annual expense of from $75,000 to $150,000, then his opposition has a flimsy foundation. How does he figure the taxpayers are losing money because the two schools were built in one year? Would the taxpayers save any money in 1926 if the east side school was built in 1924 and the west side school was built in 1925? In 1926 both schools would have been finished, both would have to be paid for, both would have to be maintained and the expense would be just as great as if they were built at the same time. In fact, it would be greater because considerable savings were effected by letting the two contracts at one time, thus permitting the contractors to cut costs by buying their materials in large quantities.

Perhaps Mr. Goodland can explain how he would have provided for junior high school education for the entire city if only one school was built at a time. Would he have built it in the west side of the city for west side children and let east side children shift for themselves, or would he have favored the east side at the expense of the west? Or would he have ignored the advice of educational experts and built one school in the center of the city? Or does Mr. Goodland believe that the interests of the city could have been best served by not building any schools at all? Mr. Goodland questions Mr. Rasey's interest in the welfare of the city and its taxpayers. What would Mr. Goodland have done?

The communications in the People's Forum indicate there was considerable smoke; The Post-Crescent has endeavored to point to the fire which caused it.

The whole affair has left the schools in a sorry mess. It has done great harm. The principal sufferers are the children for it will be a long time before the confidence of the people in its schools and its school boards will be restored. This probably is the forerunner of more of the same kind of dissensions. The new superintendent begins his work under extreme difficulties, with a shadow over his head. It is a regrettable situation.

The Post-Crescent has said that if Mr. Rasey were not elected superintendent of schools it would be because of politics and prejudices. We leave it to our readers to decide if that statement was true.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TEN YEARS AGO.
Wednesday, Jan. 6, 1915.

Newspapers were showing pictures of the German cruiser Emden, terror of the sea, at Cocos Islands, where she was run on the rocks by her German crew after an engagement with the Australian warship Sydney.
In an interview given out at Denver, Colo., by Warren G. Harding, United States senator-elect, he declared that an Okla. would be the next president of the United States. The three whom he named as possibilities were Myron T. Herrick, former ambassador, Gov. Willis and Senator Theodore Burton.
The light opera Pinafore was to be given soon by a cast under the direction of Dean Frederick Vance Evans of Lawrence Conservatory of Music.
Four deputies were sworn in this morning by Sheriff Vernon Rife. They were John Meicher, county humane agent, George Lawman and A. K. Ellis of Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company and William Muchison of Maple Creek.
Appleton Postoffice association elected the following officers at its meeting last evening: President, Harvey O. Younger; vice president, Frank O. Letts; secretary, Herbert Christianson; treasurer, Louis Stark.

Another funny thing—a chap will study a little shorthand, join a newspaper, staff, learn to tell the whole story in the opening paragraph—and then get out of newspaper work to use 100,000 words to say, "John Jones, happily married 40 years, makes a fool of himself over the other woman" and is finally saved from physical and financial ruin at the last minute by a self-sacrificing wife, after which he lives happily afterward." And it becomes one of the best sellers.

New Yorkers Favor Saving State Forests

(From The Buffalo Courier.)
Complete returns on the vote at the November election on the New York state park bond issue show a gratifying increase of sentiment for conservation of outdoors. The total vote was 1,529, 551 for and 539,815 against, a majority of three to one in favor of the proposition.
Though 90 per cent of the majority was due to the vote of New York city's metropolitan district, still the upstate vote is a satisfactory indication that appreciation of the state parks is growing. This year the opposing upstate majority of eight years ago was wiped out and replaced by a favorable majority of 48,000.

It is natural, of course, that appreciation of state parks should develop first in the urban centers, and in them according to their size. Rural districts cannot be expected to feel the need, as do cities, of making outdoor available to the present generation and preserving it for generations to come.

However, the purpose of the bond issue are not merely for the establishment and development of state parks as breathing and recreational places. A prime object is to promote the state's efforts toward conservation of forests.

Forest conservation promises benefits to the people everywhere, both urban and rural, though assurance of continued supply of lumber. It means also—and this is of particular interest to farming communities—the preservation of watersheds, on which the soil depends for fertility and productivity.

The vote on the park bond issue is disappointing only in this one respect, namely, that it shows the farm counties have failed to realize that the movement of conserving outdoors is for their good as well as for the good of cities.

In every section of the older part of the country idle acres are monuments of the damage done to agriculture by destruction of forests.

It has come to the attention of the undersigned that statements have been made to the effect that Mayor Goodland has influenced us in our determining how we should vote on certain school matters. We most emphatically wish to state that he has not in any way influenced us, or attempted to influence us, in our voting, any statement to the contrary notwithstanding.
These statements have probably been made owing to the fact that we are connected with the City in an official capacity. The charges are most untrue and unwarranted.

members of the Board to vote for Mr. Rohan.

I challenge my accusers to prove that I have ever said a word to any member of the Board how to vote or whom to vote for.
I want the people of Appleton to know that as long as I am Mayor I will not be run or dictated to by any organization or clique, but will work for what I believe to be for the best interests of the City as a whole.

If Mr. Rasey had the city's interests at heart he would have opposed the building of two Junior High Schools in one year thereby adding a fixed annual expense on the taxpayers of from $75,000.00 to $150,000.00.
I believe the qualifications of a superintendent of Schools should be one who has the taxpayers at heart as well as the schools.

Mr. Rasey appeared before the Board Monday evening, January 5, 1925, (after the election of Mr. Rohan) and asked for permission to speak. I would ask the people to read his remarks, and I believe that you will then admit the best man was elected.
Signed
John Goodland, Jr.
Mayor.

A TOUGH ONE TO SOLVE

$1,760 Profit Reported At Church Sale

The total sum cleared by the Social union of Methodist Episcopal church at the annual Christmas bazaar was $1,760, it was reported at the meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. P. Schaefer, 638 Washington-st. This sum is particularly gratifying when compared with the profits of $700 and the $1,465 cleared in the bazaar of the past two years. The cafeteria alone made $804 this year, and this success is due to a large extent to the work of the four women who were in charge. They were Mrs. A. O. McAllister, and Mrs. W. D. Kurz, who were in charge of the kitchen, and Mrs. A. E. Rector and Mrs. A. G. Meating, who directed the dining room.

The October, 1924, pledge which the union made of $5,000 to be paid toward the new church in three years, was paid in full in October 1924. Another pledge was made at that time of the same sum to be paid in two years, and at the present time, $2,000 of this pledge has been paid.

A series of cafeterias has been planned for the next four months, in charge of Mrs. A. B. Fisher, the general head. Three circles will take charge of each cafeteria, and the first affair for Jan. 20 will be managed by Circles 1, 10 and 12, with Mrs. H. E. Griffin, Miss Ida Hoppkins and Mrs. George Dambuch as captains. The April enterprise will be an elaborate one, in which all the circles will cooperate. It will be a Japanese afternoon and evening.

Also two comforters, materials for which were donated by the girls, were knitted and given to needy families.

SOME MIDDLE-AGED WOMEN ARE AILING ALL THE TIME

Mrs. Ackerman and Mrs. Mayer Tell Women How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Them at This Trying Period

Conroy, Ohio.—"During the Change of Life I was weak and run-down and could hardly do my work. By reading your advertisements I found out about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has straightened me right out and made me feel like a new woman. By the time I had taken eight bottles I was well and could do my housework on the farm without trouble. I recommended it to my daughter-in-law after her second baby was born and it did her a wonderful lot of good. I told her to try it and if it didn't help her I would pay for it, and before she had taken one bottle she said to me, 'You won't have to pay for it! It is helping me wonderfully!' And she took three bottles of it. You can use my testimonial if you wish."—Mrs. ELSIE ACKERMAN, Conroy, Ohio.

Mrs. Mayer's Experience
Litchfield, Conn.—"I have given your medicine a fair trial (I am on my fifth bottle) and can truthfully say that it has helped me. I am at the Change of Life and was not able to sleep nights, had indigestion, palpitation of the heart, pains in my right and left sides (more so if I hurried), had a rapid beating in my left ear and dreaded to see night come. I felt smothered if I lay on my left side, I had gas dreadfully, at times felt as if some one had me by the throat, had hot waves through me and sometimes I would shake in spells of nervousness. I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot praise it enough. I can say it does all it claims to do and I can recommend it to my friends. I can sleep much better, the pains in my sides are gone, I am not so nervous, my digestion is much better, and I very seldom have the hot waves. I must say that the Vegetable Compound is the best medicine for women's ills and I will answer letters from women asking about it."—Mrs. JOSEPH MAYER, Sr., Box 36, Litchfield, Connecticut.

ATHLETIC CLUB ASKS COUNCIL TO HELP PAY DEBTS

Coppes Says City Has Given
Athletic Association Shabby Treatment

Kaukauna—A communication from Kaukauna post, of the American League, was read at the meeting of the common council Tuesday evening and recommending the creation of a community athletic field by the city acted as a bombshell in the usual peace and quiet which reigns in the council chambers.

Following the reading of the communication, John Coppes, president of the Kaukauna Athletic association was granted the floor. He said his purpose in attending the meeting was to explain the present situation of the association.

It was apparent from what followed that at least two aldermen retained their original ideas and volleys of questions and answers created quite a furor for several minutes.

Because of spring floods which caused considerable damage to the athletic association property, the organization has obligations in the way of notes amounting to about $2,800. Since the failure of baseball five directors of the organization have been keeping up the interest on the notes as bankers. Recently, however, according to Mr. Coppes, some of the Kaukauna banks have declared in the time the notes were liquidated and efforts of the directors to raise the money have given the community the opinion that the association is trying to saddle the whole business on to the city. That opinion and the fact that the council failed to give consideration to communications from the association was the reason Mr. Coppes appeared Tuesday evening to defend his group and to clear up the widespread misunderstanding, he said.

Mr. Coppes stated the Kaukauna Athletic association was organized several years ago as a corporation with 57 stockholders for the express purpose of providing community athletics. The grounds have been used so freely and so generally, the speaker declared, that the people have come to look upon it as their own and now that the situation is such that the organization must raise money to liquidate its debt, either by selling the stands and fences or by charging rent for the use of the grounds, the citizens offer nothing but criticism.

Mr. Coppes went on to state that contrary to the general belief, not one cent has been paid directly or indirectly by any member of the association as a dividend or gift. He declared that when the flood washed away the park the directors agreed to back notes, believing the citizens would offer their cooperation and assistance in setting things right. The citizens failed to respond, however, and the notes were carried by the banks until a settlement was recently demanded.

Mr. Coppes said the newspapers had been instrumental in spreading the wrong belief throughout the community by publishing previous appeals of the association in terms which were misunderstood.

Alderman H. Q. Witmann and Alderman W. H. Cooper both questioned Mr. Coppes' statement that the directors had had only the interest of the community at heart. Mr. Cooper declared members of the athletic association had expected to benefit financially through the organization and he declared he could not be convinced otherwise.

Alderman Witman contributed his ideas in no uncertain terms. He said point blank that Mr. Coppes had gone into the venture to make money and because he failed he came to the council squawking. "Business is business," he shouted, "if you had cleared $5,000 would you have offered it to the city? No, you'd have stuck it in your pocket and said nothing."

Mr. Coppes said that according to the laws under which they were incorporated, all surplus earnings must be turned back to the organization for improvements. He declared the property is of no use to the directors individually but it is of use to the city and that he was being criticized for trying to sell a piece of property.

To cap the climax Mr. Coppes said the city owed the athletic association some consideration. The city is responsible for the debt inasmuch as it failed to take proper precautions to safeguard property against spring floods. The bridge which now spans Kookaport creek is wholly inadequate to handle the spring waters and he warned the council to take action as soon as possible before the next spring to dam the new pavement. The city has added to the liability of floods, Mr. Coppes said, by draining a large storm sewer from the south side into the creek without providing means of taking care of the additional water.

Attorney F. W. Grogan said that after the flood he had advised the association to file a claim against the city, which had it been done, would have named the city responsible and would have avoided all the confusion which now exists.

No action was taken by the council on the matter which was adjourned dropped when the question of providing small skating rinks at each public grade school was brought up. Aldermen from both sides of the river stated they had been approached by a number of citizens who were in favor of such a plan. The road district committees were authorized to take up the matter and to use their judgment.

COUNCIL DECIDES TO PAVE LINK ON STATE HIGHWAY 15

Automobile Owner's Claim for Damages Is Held to Be Illegal

Kaukauna—Two paving resolutions were read at the monthly meeting of the council Tuesday evening. The account of the Kaukauna Auto Co. for $84.75 against the city for repairs on an automobile owned by Charles Belling which was damaged several weeks ago when it collided with the city fire truck, was thrown out. The matter was not properly filed as a claim against the city, according to Attorney J. W. LeFevre who also declared the city is not legally liable since the accident occurred while a city employee was performing his duty.

The Belling car was considerably damaged when it was struck by the Ford chemical truck of the fire department several weeks ago. Belling claimed damages on the grounds that the siren on the car was not sounded and that the truck turned a corner directly in front of the driver of the touring car. Members of the fire department, however, declared the bell was sounded.

The paving resolutions were read and ordered published. The first related to a proposed permanent pavement on highway No. 15 from the west line of Blackst to the east line of Depot-st and thence on Taylor-st to the west line of Law-st. The county board appropriated $12,000 for the pavement at its last session and an attempt will be made to have the balance charged to the abutting property owners.

The second resolution authorized the board of public works to prepare specifications and plans for a permanent pavement on Wisconsin-ave from the west line of Diederich-st to the west line of Blackst. Property owners within the territory named were approached last summer when the rest of Wisconsin-ave was being paved but a few of them refused to have the work done then. The Wisconsin Tractor, Light, Heat and Power Co. has its tracks imbedded in concrete for the entire distance.

RESUME WORK ON KAUKAUNA BRIDGES

Kaukauna—Work on Kaukauna's new $140,000 bridges across the Fox river and the transportation canal had been at a standstill during the last few weeks due to high water and extreme cold weather. Now that the weather has moderated work has begun in earnest. About 20 men are under the direction of the Joseph McCarty company of this city. All the concrete work will be done by the local company for the Warden Allen company of Milwaukee.

Efforts have been concentrated on completion of a coffer dam for the first pier near the north bank of the river. Exceptionally high water made this a difficult task and it was impossible to keep the water out even with a pump. It was necessary to plant sand bags on all sides of the dam, a job which was practically completed Tuesday. Ray McCarty, who is in charge of the concrete construction, said they expect to lay concrete in about two weeks.

PETITION COUNCIL TO FIND SOURCE OF RADIO ANNOYANCE

Sixty Fans Join in Plea and Want Detector Purchased
—Condemn Land

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—A petition was received from about 60 local citizens, most of whom are radio owners or prospective radio owners, at the meeting of the city council Tuesday evening to have the city electrical crew discover the cause of the serious interruption in local radio receiving, presumably due to some leak in city current. They also ask the city to purchase an automatic detector, such as is now in use in various cities, and which is capable of detecting current leaks and other causes of radio receiving interruption. However, it is believed that the chief cause of the interruption has been discovered and the electrical crew will consider purchasing a detector.

A resolution was adopted by the council to have the city attorney commence actual condemnation proceedings at once against the Albert Klatt property on Oshkosh-st. The city desires to open this street at that point.

The $40,000 bond for the city treasurer, to cover the period of Jan. 1 to April 1, 1925, payable to the city of New London, was accepted. This bond is to be made only for the tax collection period. The treasurer is also bonded to Waupesa and Oshkosh counties, and to the state, in order to cover county and state funds which he handles. Mayor E. W. Wendlandt has been appointed sole custodian of the city's band.

A plea from Mrs. Minnie Lewis was read, stating that she was not able to pay all of the $122 due on her sewer assessments immediately but would pay part down, and the balance later. The matter will be remedied when she signs a petition made up for other property holders along Oshkosh-st.

A letter from D. K. Allen, district attorney of Winnebago-co., was read to the council. The letter stated he had several letters from Mrs. George Abraham of New London, wife of George Abraham, who is in jail at Oshkosh, claiming that she was badly in need of outside assistance, and desiring some of her husband's wages. However, he has only earned $28.50 so far, and the district attorney says that he has been informed that this money is not even sufficient to pay for Abraham's board in jail. As Abraham is to be arrested again as soon as he is released at Oshkosh, his wife will receive aid from the city of New London, the council decided and perhaps a mother's pension later on.

The quarterly report of the chief of police was read and adopted.

The city electrical crew was instructed to wire the house owned by that city and now occupied by Gust Schultz.

Each member of the council received a copy of the 1925 budget.

BOARD OF HEALTH ORDERS ALL PUPILS TO BE VACCINATED

Survey Made in Schools Shows
Few Are Immune from Possible Smallpox

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The local board of health, composed of five members, at a meeting Monday evening, authorized compulsory vaccination for smallpox of all school children in the city of New London.

The edit of the board, adopted at the meeting, follows:
On account of the severe and malignant type of smallpox existing all around us, the board of health deems it advisable that all children shall be vaccinated, or have a certificate of vaccination within the last six years, from their family physician, before reentering our schools on Jan. 12, 1925. Those who will not comply with this ruling will be expended for school for two weeks. The school nurse will gladly cooperate with anyone who wishes his children vaccinated and who cannot meet the situation financially.

Statistics compiled from questionnaires issued to all students show that New London school children are susceptible to an epidemic of smallpox. About 1,125 questionnaires have been returned and these show that only 266 children have been vaccinated within the last six years, and that only 203 of these vaccinations were successful. There are 465 others who have been vaccinated at some time outside of the 6-year limit. This leaves nearly a thousand students now subject to an attack of smallpox.

Students are flocking to doctors since the edict of the board of health has been issued, all waiting to be vaccinated, rather than take a chance with this disease.

NEENAH SKATERS TO ENTER TOURNAMENT

Neenah—Steps are being taken among high school ice skaters to take part in the Post-Crescent ice skating tournament at Appleton, Sunday, Jan. 18. A sample entry ticket has been posted on the bulletin board at the school and is creating a lot of interest among the young men and women. There is no entry charge in the contests for which medals and a cup have been offered as prize. It is expected that Neenah will be well represented in the contests.

PROPELLOR ICE BOAT LAUNCHED IN LAKE ICE

Neenah—Something new in winter sports was tried here Tuesday afternoon. Dr. T. D. Smith, an enthusiastic ice yachtsman, has just completed a motor iceboat which was launched on Lake Winnebago Tuesday noon. The new craft will be pulled over the ice by an airship propeller driven by a 100-horsepower engine which, it is estimated, will develop a 70-mile speed. Much interest has been taken in this new craft and it is expected that Neenah men will build similar boats.

STEAL TIRE FROM CAR IN FRONT OF POLICE STATION

Neenah—An automobile tire wheel with a tire attached was stolen from the machine of Alderman E. C. Arneemann. Mr. Arneemann's car was standing in front of the city hall Tuesday night while its owner was attending a meeting of a committee in the building. The car was parked almost across the street from the police station when the tire was removed.

This Mighty HALF PRICE SALE

Begins Tomorrow Morning--Thursday, Jan 8th and Continues Through Friday and Saturday. Ending Saturday, Jan. 10th.

Our Semi-Annual Half Price Sale has become so well known and of such magnitude, that inquiries are flocking in daily, asking the time of this sale.

SO NOW, WE ARE FLASHING THE NEWS TO YOU.

Those who know the reputation of this SEMI-ANNUAL HALF PRICE CLEARANCE SALE, need no further explanation, more than the words "HALF PRICE SALE." But for us to say to you, the thousands of new subscribers to this paper, that values are sensational, is tame indeed--for the bargains at this sale, will remain so fixed in your minds--that it will lead to regular patronage.

For eighteen years, in the same stand, in our own building on College Avenue, we have made it a steadfast rule, that at the beginning of every New Season, our store must be like a new store starting up with new merchandise. To be able to do this, we must make tremendous sacrifices at the end of each season--and this Semi-Annual Half Price Sale, does the work and you can rest assured that this sale which is so famous, will never be abused by us.

Not a single garment is reserved. Every Suit, Every Dress, Every Skirt, Every Sweater, all Millinery, all Odds and Ends, will go during this Sale at Half Price. In other words every garment you see in the store is yours at HALF PRICE.

The best part of this Half Price Sale is its simplicity. The Same Price Tags and Prices that were placed on every garment during the season--remain on each garment without changes for the Half Price Sale, all you have to do, is help yourself and deduct one half from the price ticket without asking any questions.

And being, that we cater to class as well as mass, makes it possible for everyone to find what they want at this Half Price Sale. For the woman who is accustomed to buying high class merchandise, paying in the neighborhood of $150 or $200 for a garment, at this sale she will find that very class of merchandise at Half Price. Those who usually pay about $75, $30 or $25 or even as low as $15, at this sale, they can get what they desire at Half of those prices.

Never, at any Previous HALF PRICE SALE, have we had such an enormous stock and such a wonderful selection. No garment, no matter how good it may be for the next season or how big a loss we may take on it--It's never put away.

LEGIONAIRES PUT ON COMMITTEES TO WIN $1,000 PRIZE

Mayor Wants Better Cities Con-

Oney Johnston post of the Americon legion has volunteered to help Appleton win the $1,000 prize offered in the better cities contest of the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work.

Members of the post have been added conducting the contest here.

Only a few were added where legionnaires already were listed and more were placed on other committees. The additions are:

Recreation, Lothar G. Graef; town and rural relations, George Puth, Max Bauer, George Dame, John Haug, Jr., industry, Raymond Peterson, Edward Hilfert; health, Mrs. John Haug, Jr., social work, C. C. Baker, J. N. Fischer; city planning, Eugene Orblison,
Paul Scallon; education, C. Willard
Cross and Prof. R. H. Hannum.

All committees have been asked to meet immediately by Mayor John Goodland, Jr., chairman, so the progress of their work can be checked.

ing schedules are completed a mass meeting will be called.

Chimney Fire.

Second-ave. was the scene of a chimney fire to which the Appleton fire department was called Monday evening. The blaze did no damage to the house, however.

Harold M. Ness, who is attending Chicago Art Institute, returned Tuesday after spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ness, 251 Lawrence-st.

Melvin Gehrke and George Gehrke who have been visiting their parents Mr. and Mrs. E. Gehrke, 933 Onedast, have returned to the University of Wisconsin.

Locksmiths Have Laugh When Folks Lose Keys

Along with handkerchiefs, gloves, umbrellas, rubbers and pencils, not to mention numerous other articles necessary to comfort, the thing lost most by human frailty is the key.

All kinds of keys. And here where Kink Winter is in his glory, losing a key isn't anything to joke about.

Appleton locksmiths are usually kept busy because Appleton citizens, like those all over the country, lose their keys. Like Santa Claus, a locksmith is expected to creep in winds, through cracks, down the chimney or slide under the door to let the impatient owner into his dwelling.

SAWS LOCK BOLT

It is seldom, Charles Hehne, lock-smith for the Schlager Hardware company, said, that the locksmith is forced to saw the bolt in order to gain entrance to a house, although in one instance he was forced to do it because there was not enough swing in the door to permit a person to enter after the bolts and hinges had been removed. Ordinary housekeys are the ones most commonly lost, and these can easily be replaced. Often people come in to purchase skeleton keys in order to gain entrance to their homes.

Most families, Mr. Hehne said, have more than one key and so it is seldom that a person is left in the cold or rain while he waits for a lock-smith to let him in.

Richard Groth, of the Groth Motor and Bicycle shop, remembers of one instance when an old woman was kept waiting in the cold until he could pick her lock and let her in, but outside of that he finds that most people have more than one key.

Many business houses wishing to have duplicate keys made, take old keys or locks to the police and ask a police officer to take the key to the locksmith so that the identity of the owner may not be traced.

Most locksmiths, Mr. Groth said, have sets of keys that will open most ordinary locks. Mr. Groth has a set of picks that once were owned by a burglar. With these he has been able to open many difficult locks.

ELECT DIRECTORS OF B-L THURSDAY

STRIKING MINER SLAIN IN STREET

By Associated Press

Scranton, Pa. — His body riddled with bullets, Samuel Pace, secretary of the Ewen colliery, local union of the Pennsylvania Coal Co., was found dead on a street in Pittston early Tuesday. He was 31 years old.

Pace, one of the eleven miners on strike in the Pittston district for the past five weeks, was on his way home after attending a union meeting.

The meeting place attended Monday night was said to have been at the home of Rinaldo Cappellini, district president of the Miners union, who repeatedly has urged the strikers to return to work.

Pittston police found Pace's body riddled with 14 steel jacketed bullets which entered his stomach and legs.
The slaying took place less than a block from Pace's home where his wife and three children were waiting for him.

Pace was secretary of the Colliery local union where the present unauthorized strike originated.

EIGHT MEMBERS TAKEN INTO BLACKHAWK CLUB

Eight new members were initiated into the Blackhawk club at the meeting Monday evening at the Y. M. C.
A. The club constitution was discussed and a committee was appointed to draft a new constitution and report at the next meeting. This committee consists of Alfred Gebheim, Walter Moore and Clarence Christen.

A report of the club's New Years day program was given and a discussion followed. The club exhibit consisted of stuffed birds and animals, small trees, bird houses, beadwork, baskets, birchbark, tomahawks, and types of stones. A large wigwam was set up in the center and Indian dances and pow-wows featured the work. The Appleton Building and Loan association will hold its annual meeting at 7:30 Thursday evening in the assembly room of the chamber of commerce in Insurance-bldg. All holders of shares are expected to attend to hear reports and vote on directors.

Terms of three directors expire.
John J. Sherman, who is president, George H. Beckley, managing secretary, and J. L. Jacquot. Reports showing the business done during the year 1924 will be given by Mr. Beckley and E. C. Hilfert, treasurer.

Annual meetings have been held in the city hall in past years but the new location was chosen as the association's officers are in Insurance-bldg.

POLICE THROW OUT NET FOR DIAMOND THEFT SUSPECTS

Police have communicated with neighboring communities and given authorities instructions to be on the lookout for two men who are suspected of having stolen two diamond rings from a Kaukauna home where they were guests Sunday.

A description has been given and instructions have been given to search them if found, for the missing diamonds.

Two men several evenings ago stopped at the home of relatives in Kaukauna. The next morning while the woman of the house stepped out for a short time to take a child to school, the rings and the visitors disappeared. It is believed that they were traveling in an automobile and were headed south.

India is the second largest cotton growing country in the world.

meeting was followed by a social hour.

A regular meeting of the Freeham
Triangle club was held Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. Business for 1925 was started. Len Henriksen, leader of the club, has not yet returned from his vacation.

The new Trinity English Evangelical Lutheran church, one of the most attractive in the city, is to be formally dedicated on Sunday, Jan. 18. The Rev. F. L. Schreckenbach, pastor, announced an elaborate program has been planned and many visiting pastors, several of whom were instrumental in organizing the local congregation, are to be present.

The tentative program calls for morning, afternoon and evening services. The speakers will be the Rev. W. C. Miller of Polo, Ill., the Rev. J. S. Herold, D. D., representatives of the church extension board of United Lutheran church, Chicago, the Rev. E. Karuse of the Chicago Lutheran seminary, the Rev. Luther Hogshead, Bernard J. Stecker of Fond du Lac and the Rev. A. J. Sommers of Neenah. Mr. Stecker and the Rev. Mr. Sommers were in part responsible for the Appleton church. Mr. Stecker served here while he attended Lawrence college in 1916 and 1917.

In the evening there is to be an old-time gathering. The Wednesday following the dedication is community night and the citizens of Appleton will be invited to be present.

The Rev. J. Richard Olson of New London and the choir of St. Paul Lutheran church at Neenah are to furnish music at the dedication services.

Less than one-tenth of the total amount of taxes to be collected during the month of January has been paid by taxpayers at the office of Fred E. Bachman, city treasurer, within the last week. The deposit accounts of the treasurer show that he has taken in approximately $108,324 since the opening of the tax collection period, Dec. 29.

No collection was made on Jan. 1, New Year's day, and on Saturday the office was open only in the forenoon. The collections from day to day were as follows: Monday, Dec. 29, $16,971; Tuesday, $12,713; Wednesday, $32,410; Friday, $22,765; Saturday, $9,556; Monday, $14,373.

Mr. Bachman repeated his announcement that all those who find it impossible to come to the office during the day will find the office open every Monday evening in January from 7 to 8 o'clock.

CHURCH WILL HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Church night suppers of the First Congregational church will resume Thursday, when the first session of the annual meeting will be held. Supper will be served at 6:30 by the board of deacons.

Business matters will take up most of the time. The budget for the year 1924 will be adopted and some of the annual reports will be submitted.

Remaining business, including election of officers, will be transacted at the church night meeting of Thursday, Jan. 14. A special program will be held at that time, including music, motion pictures and all families of the church will be induced to attend.

MORE STUDENTS ENROLL

Students who are not continuing courses they started last semester are required to present receipted certificates signed by their teachers before Jan. 15.

Practically all of the day school students have returned to their work since Friday. The attendance was small last week because of the vaccination ruling of the board of health, but the attendance now is 90 per cent.

BOARD REFUSES TO STRETCH ORDINANCE

Appeal for Permit to Build Riding Academy in Resident District

At a recent meeting of the board of appeals called at the request of the common council to grant a building permit to Ed. Pfeil for the establishment of a riding academy on Main-st. in the Fourth ward, the board refused to take the action desired.

Previously Mr. Pfeil had petitioned the council to amend the zoning ordinance by adding this lot to the local business district which it adjoins and permitting the establishment of riding academies in such districts. The council did not wish to make a change in the district boundaries, but asked the board of appeals to make an exception and grant a building permit. The position of the board was that if the council did not see fit to redistrict the territory there was no reason for the board to stretch the zoning ordinance.

COMMON COUNCIL HOLDS FIRST MEETING OF YEAR

A regular meeting of the Appleton common council is scheduled to be held in the city hall at 7:30 Wednesday evening. Robert M. Connelly, engineer, will be absent from the meeting, as he is attending the national road show in Chicago. Among the matters to be referred to the council is the proposal to amend the zoning ordinance to extend the boundaries of a local district in the Fourth ward to make room for a riding academy.

HOLDUP MEN FIRE AT BAGG BUT HE ESCAPES

A brief, but thrilling adventure was the lot of Dr. R. M. Bagg on his motor trip east to Virginia. In Indianola Dr. Bagg's car was fired upon by hold-up men, but he escaped unhurt. The remainder of the trip was uneventful. Prof. Bagg, on leave of absence until the fall term, motored east as the first lap of his travels, and spent the holidays with his daughter, Mrs. Frank Taber, in Lynchburg, Va. He probably will lecture at various universities, although definite plans have not been announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Guenther returned Tuesday from their honeymoon at Miami, Fla. They will reside at their new home on Fairview-st.

Kaukauna, Neenah and Menasha Expected to Enter Strong Delegation in Post-Crescent Meet

With skaters of Fox river valley eligible for entry in the third annual Post-Crescent skating tournament on Sunday, Jan. 15, Appleton speedsters will have to look to their laurels this year. They have been accustomed to having things all their own way in the two previous meets, because outsiders were barred. Kaukauna, Neenah and Menasha all have hockey teams and good ice rinks, and in order to play hockey a skater must be an expert. Hortonville, New London, Little Chute, Kimberly and all the other towns between, have rinks, and on occasion will rise to tell the world their skaters are as good as any in the larger cities of the district.

But rivalry between Appleton, Kaukauna and the Twin Cities has been intense ever since they first began to call themselves villages, and the skating tournament will be no exception. However, some of the outlying towns also boast some speed and will attempt to show up their bigger rivals.

APPLETON LOSES STARS
Percy Sharp, last year's champion, is eliminated from competition, and Walter Bell, who moved to California last summer, also will be out. This gives the rival cities a good chance at Appleton's crown and is another inducement for them to enter. Professionals, of course, are barred, but there should be enough amateurs of ability in the territory covered by the tournament limitations to swell the entry list above the century mark.

The early date on which the tournament is being held this year will permit intercity relays later in the season, and there has been some discussion of such an event here. The best skaters from each city represented in the third annual meet would be picked and matched against each other as teams, to decide which city should hold the championship. Only skaters who took part in the tournament would be eligible, however.

Entries will close at 6 P. M. on Thursday, Jan. 15. This leaves but nine days more, and all prospects are urged to fill out the blank on this page TODAY, send a mail or bring it to the Post-Crescent skating editor.

THURSDAY LAST CHANCE TO ENTER STATE PIN MEET

Fond du Lac Hopes to Exceed Janesville's Mark of 1,186
Entries

Milwaukee—At midnight Jan. 5, entries will close for the most representative state bowling tournament ever held in Wisconsin.

The tournament will open at Fond du Lac on Jan. 21, and continue without a break until Feb. 25. Entries from teams from outside the tournament city show a decided increase over the entry of last year, and it is hoped that the 1924 tournament entry at Janesville of 1,186 teams will be surpassed, which is asured if Fond du Lac will enter the six hundred teams that they promised last year when the tournament was awarded to their city.

Late entrants should get into quick touch with the office of the state secretary at 175 Second-st., Milwaukee, and learn all particulars regarding the entry of teams at the last moment. Positively no entries will be accepted unless in the mails by midnight, Jan. 8.

Milwaukee will enter about 350 teams, and several upstate cities will have from 30 to 50 teams. It is to be a great tournament and no live bowler in the state of Wisconsin should miss it.

The Referee

While making a downward swing at the tee, intending to hit the ball, the club head parted from the shaft and struck back of the ball. What is the proper ruling?—D. C. D.

It must be regarded as a stroke, although it is a tough break.

In what year was Ty Cobb born and how many years does he expect to play regularly?—A. R. G.

Cobb was born in 1886, making him 38 years old. He says he intends to play two more years.

Was Champion Jack Dempsey ever knocked out?—B. R. T.

Jim Flynn is credited with putting him to sleep in one round in 1917. The report is that Dempsey was hungry that evening and did a Fred Fulton dive.

BLUES WILL MEET STRONG TEAMS ON THREE-DAY TRIP

Loyola, Northwestern and Wheaton Scheduled as Last of Preliminaries

At 7:40 Thursday evening nine Lawrence cagers embark on a trip through Wisconsin and Illinois in the course of which they are due to clash with three strong basketball teams in the last of their preliminary games before meeting Ripon here on Jan. 16. The first of these will be Loyola university of Chicago, slated for a game Thursday night. Next will be Northwestern college at Naperville, and finally Wheaton college.

Loyola is one of the strongest basketball schools in the midwest, meeting such teams as Columbia and Notre Dame. Northwestern, weak in other intercollegiate sports, makes a specialty of basketball and always has a strong team. Northwestern has one of the best fives in the Little 19 conference. While little is known of Wheaton, that school has had excellent records in past years, and Coach A. C. Denney expects another hard game here.

The Lawrentons recently were weakened by the loss of two regulars, Hulbert and Collinge. Hulbert has quit school, while Collinge is unable to devote his time to sports while working his way through college. Two freshman stars also were lost when Kummer flunked and Hazen continued on probation.

Kotol, acting captain, Briesse, Aschman, Zussman and Heidenfain, the regular lineup, will be accompanied on the trip by Grove, Kosbach, Clarke and Steensland. It is Denney's intention to send the latter four in as often as possible, for while he has a strong quintet of regulars, he is lacking substitutes and intends to develop them.

PHI KAPPS TAKE FIRST PIN MATCH

Phi Kappa Alphas Tuesday evening started on their Interfraternity Bowling league schedule by taking two out of three games from the Delta Sigma Tau, on the Elks alleys here. But the latter took a lead of 21 pins for the match. The Delta Sigs dropped the first game by a margin of 31 pins but came back in the second to lead their rivals by 97 strikes. This gave them enough of a lead to offset the loss of the third game.

Jack Stoll of the Delta Sigma Tau rolled 500 for high score, followed by Eric Kotol of the Phi Kapps with 451.

FRIDAY'S SCHEDULE
Sheboygan at Fond du Lac.
OSHKOSH AT APPLETON.
W. Green Bay at Manitowoc.
Marquette at E. Green Bay.

Appleton high school cagers are working overtime to get set for their first home game, which will bring Oshkosh here Friday evening. Tangled in a triple tie for first place with Oshkosh and East Green Bay after defeating Sheboygan, 20 to 15, last week, the Orange five has a good chance of shunting the Sawdust City schoolers to second place, and if Marinette succeeds in defeating East Green Bay, Appleton would be undisputed leader of the high school conference.

Oshkosh always has been one of Appleton's chief rivals, and as the two quintets will be battling for first place, the game may be expected to result in plenty of exciting situations. Last year the Orange had little difficulty in taking most of its scheduled games, but with only one regular back Coach Jule Kevin is having his hands full to develop an other fast team. Every quarter in the conference will be on its mettle to even the score with Appleton this season, and the Orange faces a hard year.

BADGERS NOSE OUT DEPAUW, 27 TO 22

By Associated Press
Madison—Wisconsin won a closely contested basketball game from De Pauw, 27 to 22, here Tuesday night. The Badger five working machine-like both in offense and defense. Varney, forward, was the star of the game making more than half of the Wisconsin tallies.

Stewart and Ward, forwards, were the outstanding De-Pauw players. Stewart scoring most of the baskets. The margin was close throughout but Wisconsin held the lead that it obtained early in the game through superior play.

Eveloth, Minn.—St. Paul won its second victory of the season by defeating Eveloth, 2 to 1, in a United States Amateur Hockey league game.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Young Wallace of New Orleans, welterweight, and Larry Ayers, Atlanta, fought ten rounds to a draw.

Seattle—Vic Foley, bantamweight champion of Canada, won a unanimous decision over Dixie Lanoed, Butte, Mont., inter-mountain champion.

EASY, PAAVO SAYS AFTER SMASHING 2 WORLD RECORDS

Marvelous Finn Easily Outruns Greatest Speedsters of America

By Associated Press
New York—"They were two easy races." This terse statement came from a lithe, unassuming youth who had just conquered America's best athletes in two events and had established three world's records on the board track at Madison Square Garden in the Finnish-American Athletic club games Tuesday night.

Paavo Nurmi, sensation of Finland, explained through interpreters that he did not intend to belittle the efforts of his opponents but rather to make plain that he suffered no inconvenience in capturing the mile race in which the little blonde Jole Ray of Chicago broke his own world's record only to be beaten by the invader, and the 5,000 meters, in which he ran step by step with Willie Ritola until the last moments and then left him far behind.

Nurmi's presence set American and world track records in a whirl. The Finn broke two records in the mile run, finishing in 4:13.3-5 a full second ahead of Ray's former time. Ray also beat his own record but his effort was not enough, for Nurmi was three yards ahead. The Finn in the same race established a mark of 3:55.1-5 for 1,600 meters, another record formerly held by Ray. In the last event the invader romped away from his countryman Ritola, to a new world mark of 14:44.3-5 in the 5,000 meters, ten seconds better than Ray did in 1919. Loren Muchison, marvelous dash man of the Newark Athletic Club cut a fifth of a second from his own 220 yard figures and established marks of 29 seconds for 250 meters and 6 seconds for 50 meters.

Then Alan Helfrich of Penn State raced to a mark of 1:05.4-5 in the 500 meters event the sixth record breaking performance.

When the time he appeared for warming up exercises before the events of the evening started, Nurmi was a hero as never before. Every step he took was cheered by the 12,000 fans and when he tied the line for his races the same hearty welcome poured from the crowd.

APPLETON VETS AT HORTONVILLE FOR FIRST GAME

Oney Johnston Post Cagers Look Forward to Ending Season Near Top

After two weeks of thorough workouts, the basketball team of Oney Johnston post of the American Legion is ready for its opening game with the Hortonville Legion team there Friday evening. The lineup of the Appleton Legionnaires includes a number of stars with formidable reputations, among them Phil Jacobson of Appleton high school and Lawrence college, Stevens of the University of Michigan, Dan Courtney of Lawrence, Bartz of Florida, and Torrovy and Radtke of the Industrial league.

Most of the Legion posts in cities throughout the state now have their own basketball teams, and Oney Johnston post expects to meet a number of them later in the season. Games have been scheduled with Waushara and Hilbert and negotiations are under way with several other towns.

The Appleton Legionnaires are looking forward to catching up with some of the older Legion teams and have fair prospects of ending the season somewhere near the top of the heap.

COLLINS, BRAINY PLAYER, SHOULD SUCCEED AS CHIEF

The left forward, No. 1, secures the ball out of bound. No. 2, right forward, and No. 3, center, rush to position 15 feet from the end line and 15 feet apart. No. 4, floor guard, stands 40 feet out from No. 1, directly in front of him and between No. 2 and No. 3. The opponents usually stand as diagrammed. (X1), (X2), (X3)

At signal, No. 2 and No. 3 criss-cross diagonally forward (A) and (B) and directly in front of No. 1. This should result in a temporary check to one or both of the pursuing guards (X2) and (X3).

Frequently both offensive men are a stride free. If go the pass (C) goes to No. 2, or if only No. 3 is free—and No. 3 usually can get free by continuing on towards the corner—the pass (D) is from No. 1 to No. 3.

When the criss-cross is on, the guard, No. 4, dashes straight in (E) towards No. 1. No. 1 can pass over hand and high (F) to No. 4. After passing, No. 1 cuts (G) to goal and receives a return pass from No. 3. No.

BEAUTY CONTAINED
LORD DUNSANY TALE

"The King of Elfland's Daughter" Sure to Charm Its Readers

BY ELEANOR WING

"And reason in Elfland was no daily thing, but an exotic wonder," says Dunsany. And reason, in judging the King of Elfland's Daughter, published by Putnam, cannot be a potent criterion of its charm. If you are one of the grownups who sheepishly hides a fairytale in the corner of your Morris chair when another grownup draws near, then you are not the type of reader who can glean the most from the precious minutes spent in Dunsany's Elfland. But you cannot miss all the beauty of it, however prosaic you are. But if you can see the myriad colors in a hazy sunset, if you can feel the thrush of music in the wind; and above all, if you can look out disillusioning sceptics, then Dunsany is writing for you!

The King of Elfland's Daughter is the story of a little village of a century ago, not far from the borders of Elfland. The eldest of this ordinary village longed to bring some fame to the little spot they loved and by trafficking with fairy folk, brought too much magic into her life. The story is the delightful pursuit of the Elf princess by the prince of Elf, her captivation to his wooing; and her unhappiness among mortals. She is enticed back to Elfland by the second great rune (or charm) of the Elf King, but can no longer be happy without the mortals she has lived among. Her son, Orion, continually calls her back to earth; and she finally persuades her father to use his last great rune to move Elfland until it has enveloped the village of Elf.

One suspects Dunsany of two hobbies—the paintbox and Virgil! For he splashes the word colors of an ardent painter on a background of book paper, and he talks in epithets. "The pale-blue, elfin mountains" with their spires and peaks rising in the brilliant light that knows no change of sunset, moonlight or starlight, are always pale-blue. The name for the prosaic fields of earth is unchangeably "the fields we know." And because of this epithet trait, the reader is immersed still more deeply in the fairytale where reason cannot find its way.

There is no moral in the tale. But every now and then, some illusion brings with it a sense of similarity to the folks we know. The two old people living on the border of Elfland are only three-square. They cannot conceive of a fourth—a magical side of life, which lies to the east of them. Elfland did not exist, they said, and their lives never felt the influence of fairytale.

Lisrael, the Elf princess, in her new mortal home, found many things incompatible with her eerie girlhood. Alveric, the prince, often reproached her for worshipping the stars, which he said, "were there fore no such purpose."

But Lisrael felt only that the stars had not their due, and that it was only reasonable they should demand that thanks be given for their beauty. And Alveric's reproaches could not stop her from falling to her knees among the iris leaves beside the still pool, giving thanks to the images of the stars for the joy she had of the night.

The most perfect scene in the story is the fashioning of the magic sword which the old witch made for Alveric, to keep him safe in his quest of the Elf princess, with her crown of ice. The spell cast by the witch resembles that of the old sigilid legend. But there is more fantasy, more idealism, and more idyllic melody in the witches charm for Alveric, than in the older story. Regrets, memories, waps of crowned songs, flashes of magic fire, and ghosts of other days are part of the charm of the sword; and "little magic there is in the English woods from the time of the sun came to the falling of the leaves that was not in the sword."

But there is no use trying to paint a gaudy imitation of a perfect fantasy! The only resemblance between earth and Elfland is the "radiance of the wandering moments that sometimes astonish our fields!"

THE KORAN
The Koran consists largely of moral sententious sayings, exhibiting a considerable knowledge of the philosophy of the age in which Mahomet wrote. Adventures In The Library

By ARNOLD MULDER

REACTIONS TO MARK TWAIN'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY

I have not yet read Mark Twain's much-discussed posthumous autobiography and I may not get to it for months, so I shall here give the reactions of one who has read it, or rather a hint at her reactions because her remarks were not meant to be exhaustive. The following is from a letter from Mrs. Myrtle Koon Cherryman of Grand Rapids, Mich., and she says it is so interesting in itself that it serves admirably as the theme of an "Adventure."

"Won't you write an Adventure about the debacle of Van Wyke Brooks marvelously built up theory about Mark Twain? When you read the posthumous autobiography (if you haven't done so already, you will surely agree with me that if Mark suffered any 'ordeal' through the conservation of his in-laws, and if he labored under a mother and wife complex which caused harmful inhibitions, he lost might good opportunity to free himself from them, in his 'truth-telling' book."

WIFE ENTERS IN

"Personally, I think, as I've always thought, that Mark let Livy manage him just so far as he wanted to be managed, and that if he allowed her to cut out some portions of his work or to quell his profanity, it was because he respected her judgment. If ever an adoring husband appeared on the printed page, it is Mark, every time he mentions Livy's name."

"You probably don't share my irritation at that style of analysis—the Strachey method, as you call it—so you may not feel as I do about 'The Ordeal of Mark Twain,' but your sense of justice will show you that the preponderance of the evidence, as given by the victim, unsolicited, is that Mark Twain was the most contented 'expendee' that ever lived."

Mrs. Cherryman's letter raises an interesting question, and a question moreover which is probably incapable of being answered positively. To what extent is it wise for a writer who is authentic genius, as Mark Twain undoubtedly was, to defer to the judgment of wife or mother or friend or anyone in the production of his work?

Van Wyke Brooks a few years ago wrote a book, "The Ordeal of Mark Twain," in which he attempted to prove that Mark Twain's wife and mother and his friend Howells and others emasculated his work, with his own consent, or rather that he did not write what his native genius dictated out of fear of hurting the feelings of these friends and relatives.

WHO CAN PROVE IT?

Van Wyke Brooks did not prove his case, and it is extremely doubtful if any such case can be proved. At best it remains an hypothesis. How can anyone say positively, "Such and such a writer would have produced different works from those he did write if his wife had not influenced him?" Who is going to prove positively that without such influence the words produced might not have been worse?

A similar theory exists about Robert Louis Stevenson. It is even alleged that in his case his wife threw a manuscript into the fire which she believed would hurt his reputation—which however is quite different from a writer inhibiting his own native genius for social or domestic reasons.

That such inhibitions for other than purely artistic reasons do actually occur I believe strongly. Whether they occurred in Mark Twain's case or not, it is one of the hazards of his artistic life that every writer must face. He must face it and take his chances just as he probably has to face measles or scarlet fever or any of the hazards that threaten to destroy his body. Shakespeare might have been shot as a poacher in youth or fallen off his horse and broken his neck, and the world would never

Texan Wins 1924 Prize For Thriller

The Atlantic Monthly Press announces that Clifford M. Sublette, a fruit grower of Harlingen, Texas, on the Mexican border, is the winner of its $2,000 prize for an adventure story, offered last year in memory of the late Charles Boardman Hawes, the author of a number of the best of recent adventure tales.

Mr. Sublette's prize winning novel The Scarlet Cockerel will be published March 1. This new author, who is thirty-seven years old has never written a novel before, although he has published a number of short stories of the adventure type. He devotes his winters to writing, and his summers to field work for commission houses dealing in fruits and green vegetables. This pursuit has taken him to many parts of the West and given him unusual opportunity to gather material for his stories. He is particularly interested in history, in fact his novel, The Scarlet Cockerel, has a distinctly historical background, being a 16th century tale of the French Huguenot colonists in the Carolinas and their difficulties with the Spanish from Florida.

The Hawes prize contest brought have had "Hamlet" or "Macbeth." Similarly a genius may have the wrong friends or "in-laws" who serve to spoil or prevent his work. But on the other hand, there are probably just as many cases of an "in-law" or a friend providing the necessary stimulus that serves to bring out a writer's best work and without whom he would be more or less helpless. Writing, like almost everything else, is after all pretty much of a gamble and it seems rather futile for anyone to speculate what a given writer might have done if he had had a different wife or a different mother or a different friend. For it he had chosen a different wife or a different friend he would probably have been a different man, and there you are.

Best Sellers Renounced By Movie Artists

BY JACK JUNGMEYER

Hollywood—"The prevalent type of book and play shall not become the current type of motion pictures. That is an imperative injunction which the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America had laid upon its members through its president, Will H. Hays. This organization includes most of the important producers.

Is there any honest inquiry why what is written may not be filmed? The explanation is simple and should be contemplated from time to time in measuring movie standards, trends, ventures, restrictions. The language of the screen is so much simpler than that of books. It is understood by children and illiterates. Books and stage plays recognize gradations of age. Movies are made for the entire family.

Children are the crux. They see and more or less understand, in films matters which they would not learn by spoken or written word or by observation until many years later. They are agitated by impulses and curiosities before they have acquired compensating judgment and discipline. They acquire knowledge which elders have always been in conspiracy to withhold from youngsters. This annoys and often enrages parents. The result is expressed in censorship of films. For parental concern, quite as much as the fanatic's desire to be his brother's keeper, is at the base of the censorship.

The "prevalent type of book and play" is considered far too bold to withstand censorial interference when translated into film. Hence the motion picture is kept outside the fold of untrammelled arts. Its very popularity keeps it so. Only minorities may enjoy liberal artistic offerings. If the "prevalent type" of book were to be read before large mixed assemblies, censorship would undoubtedly clamp down on publishers too. Crowd consciousness plays curious pranks with moral standards; it either straitens or loosens them to extremes over the individual code.

It may be taken for granted that no ethical consideration dictated the Motion Picture Producers' ban on reproduction of a certain type of book or play. It was a pure business expedient—a matter of safeguarding the industry against further censorial limitation.

There is something almost lugubrious in the producers' solemn renunciation of many "best sellers" as movie material when every member knows that the adult public which jams the theaters evidently like its stories and plays of the "prevalent type."

The producers proclaim that this expurgation need not impair the vigor, realism and authenticity of screen presentations. But many of them look curiously like martyrs when they say it.

And they will continue to look like martyrs until some Will Hays of public taste shall promote among movie patrons that "highest moral and artistic standard" to which the movie producers have dedicated themselves by resolution.

SEDGWICK STORY IN BIGGEST DEMAND

Third Novel of Series by Herbert Quick Attracts Attention

"The Little French Girl" by Anne Douglas Sedgwick continues to be the book most in demand at Appleton Public Library. "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Harriet Beecher Stowe's famous story, has been called for of late, but the librarians say this is because the play showed here recently.

Other books among the most popular include "The White Monkey" by John Galsworthy, "Professor, How Could You?" by Harry Leon Wilson, "Best Plays of 1923-1924" by Burns Mantle and "The Real Sarah Bernhardt" by Basil Woon.

Much interest has centered on "The Invisible Woman" by Herbert Quick.

scores of manuscripts to the Atlantic offices, and two others were so close to the winner in merit that they will be published simultaneously with The Scarlet Cockerel. These books are Old Brig's Cargo by Dr. Henry A. Pulsford of South Orange, N. J., and Hostages to Honor by Alfred H. Bill of St. Paul, Minn.

Quick's new book is the third of a trio, all centered around the pioneers of the middle west. The first is "Vandemark's Folly," an account of the pioneers of the middle west during the decade of 1855 to 1865. "The Hawkeye," second, continues the narrative of the growth of this American soil through the '70's and '80's, while "Invisible Woman" carries the epic story to the end of the century. The book is complete in itself, although it is bound to "Vandemark's Folly" and "The Hawkeye" as one generation is bound to another. In the children's department the looks wanted last week were Stories of "Pioneer Life" by Florence Bass and "Pilgrim Stories" by M. E. Pumphrey.

The Ship of Prosperity Is Safely Anchored In Wisconsin

FARM wealth and highly diversified manufacturing industries—these are the two solid anchors that hold safe Wisconsin Prosperity, through both fair weather and the storms of business depression.

The average wealth of Wisconsin's 189,295 farms amounts to $14,143.00 with an average equity per farm of $6,693.00. The annual value of the products of these well established, financially sound producing plants, amounts to more than $650,000,000.

In Wisconsin, 46 major divisions of manufacturing industry are represented by 10,393 producing plants, employing 263,949 wage earners. This great diversity of manufacturing enterprise distributes employment so that a stable balance is always maintained.

These are facts that commend the Wisconsin market to manufacturers who seek outlets for their products where steady turnover is assured. Wisconsin's 43 Daily Newspapers cover this market thoroughly. For complete market data address Secretary, 421 Sycamore Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

BOY SCOUT ANNUAL MEETING FEB. 5

Public Address by Elsom Will Follow Dinner and Council Election

Valley council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold its annual meeting Thursday, Feb. 5, and a public session will be arranged at that time for an address by Prof. J. E. Elsom of Madison, according to plans made by the executive committee of the council at its monthly gathering at scout headquarters Tuesday evening. Arrangements for the leaders' training course also were changed.

Members of all district committees in the council, including Appleton, Neenah-Menasha, Kaukauna, Little Chute and Kimberly, will be asked to attend the annual meeting. A dinner and business session will be held at Hotel Northern at 6 o'clock. Officers will be elected and reports for the year submitted.

The council will conclude its work by 8 o'clock so a public meeting can be held in the hotel diningroom when Prof. Elsom speaks. He is an instructor of physical education at the University of Wisconsin and an ardent boy scout worker and outdoor life advocate.

One session a week for ten days may be the plan of the scout leaders' training course instead of gathering every day for one week only, the committee believed. The original plan was abandoned when it was found that all of the boys' work speakers wanted could not come here during the week set aside. Further plans will be made later.

DEATHS

MARY MARGARET BERG
Miss Mary Margaret Berg died Tuesday evening at her home, 584 Lawrence st. She is survived by a sister, Theresa and a brother, Peter, both of Appleton.

Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock Friday morning at St. Joseph church. Interment will be in St. Joseph cemetery.

COEDS SWITCH BACK TO GIRLS' CAGE RULES

Lawrence women basketball players have changed their style of play from masculine to feminine. Not merely to exercise the woman's eternal right to change her mind, or because the boys' rules make play too much made for them, was the change. On the contrary the girls were doing very well under the male system, according to Coach John "Jack" Zussman, but the teams which the coeds will play use the girls' rules exclusively. It was thought best for the Lawrence girls to become familiar with this method of play rather than the other.

Under the new type of play, six players comprise a team, there being two forwards, two guards, and two centers. Each two are confined to one third of the floor, and must not leave their territory. Movement of the ball toward the goal depends mainly on passing, and only the forwards can shoot for the basket.

After playing the free boys' game, it is rather hard for the girls to become accustomed to the restrictions of floor zones. When a point of sufficient perfection is reached Coach Zussman plans to hold an interschool tournament from which the variety squad will be chosen.

A "Hand Rail" For Eyes

If you have ever climbed a spiral stairway to the top of a high monument—especially one which is imperfectly lighted—you have realized how convenient a hand rail could be.
The rail may even be the very thing which makes climbing possible.

At any rate—a thing which actually guides and assures progress is always welcome.
And this, in a nutshell, explains why everybody like the alphabetical and numerical arrangement of the Post-Crescent A-B-C Classified Ad. This systematic arrangement serves as a hand rail for the readers' eyes—prevents them from stumbling—and leads them with unerring accuracy to the goal they seek.

Look up and down the classified columns—and you will see the aptness of this comparison.
And at the same time you will see that the perfectly arranged classified ads make climbing possible and give assurance of material success!

BAND, SONGS AND SPEECHES PEP UP LEGION'S MEETING

Luncheon Clubs and City Officials Are Guests of War Veterans

With more than 250 appreciative listeners in the audience, the saxophone band of Oney Johnston p. st. f the American Legion Tuesday night made its debut at the monthly meeting of the post in Elk hall. The city council, Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary clubs were well represented as guests of the entertainers, and after a short business meeting were entertained by a varied program of singing, dancing, music and boxing.

Reports of the activities of the post were given by committee chairmen, and tentative plans announced for future meetings. Vice Commander Raymond Peterson reported that a letter in the membership drive had allowed the Altona Fredericks post of Milwaukee to gain a lead of 20 members over Oney Johnston post, and it was decided to make a strong attempt to get back in the lead.

A grievance committee is to be established before the next regular meeting to attend to all complaints of legionaires.

The post was urged by Commander Thomas Morrissey to give its full support to the membership drive of the Women's auxiliary which will be given its first impetus at a meeting Thursday in Odd Fellow hall, and to the boy scout movement in this city.

Captain Fred B. Rogers, of the saxophone band, discussed plans for a concert next spring by which it is hoped to raise sufficient funds to purchase proper uniforms for the players. A drum corps will be established after the ranks of the band have been filled. It was announced. Ten more men are needed to complete the band.

Representatives of the Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary clubs and city council expressed their appreciation of the aims and hospitality of Oney Johnston post. Mayor John Goodland Jr. was unable to attend.

The entertainment was featured by the post saxophone band under the direction of Capt. Rogers. Much of its success also was due to the singing and playing of "Mickey" McKee, Mrs. Oscar Adler and Mrs. Dorothy Pierce, and the dancing of a Milwaukee entertainer brought here by this entertainment committee.

Mickey Mack and Earl Rogers, two local fighters, staged an impromptu sparring match of four rounds, a part of their regular training. The match was fought with 15-ounce gloves and kept the audience in an uproar.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—dark spots on your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 50c.

PRIZE OF $1,000 OFFERED IN NEW K-C SAFETY RACE

Kimberly, Niagara, Niagara Falls and Spruce Falls Will Compete

Kimberly—An annual safety contest between four mills of the Kimberly-Clark Co. started Jan. 1, 1925 and will end Dec. 20. The contest is between the mills at Kimberly, Niagara Falls, Niagara and Spruce Falls.

A grand prize of $1,000 will be awarded to the winning mill. The contest is to be an annual affair beginning each year on Jan. 1, and ending the same year on Dec. 20.

The contest will be divided into 12 units for scoring purposes, each month representing one complete unit. Three points will be awarded for first place, two for second place, one for third place and none for fourth position.

Deductions for accidents and days lost will determine the winner for each month. These will be subtracted from 100, which is to be a perfect record. Each mill will have a different basis of deduction. Kimberly and three for each day lost; Niagara, nine and four points, respectively; Niagara Falls, thirteen and six points, respectively, and Spruce Falls, eighteen and nine points.

The mill on Dec. 20, 1925 having the greatest number of points will be declared the champion for the year and will be awarded the grand prize, which will be distributed to all of the men of the mill.

In case of a tie on Dec. 20 for first place, the mill with the best record, taking into account the number of men employed and the severity of accidents during the year will be declared the winner.

The contest is the result of the effort being made by the Kimberly-Clark Co. to promote safety in its mills.

A banquet and meeting were held Tuesday evening, Dec. 30, in Kimberly clubhouse by the foremen and superintendents of the Kimberly-Clark mills at Kimberly, Appleton and Neenah. The meeting was also attended by the board of directors of Kimberly-Clark Co. Talks were given by S. F. Shattuck, J. G. Kimberly, H. Price and Ernest Mahler. All spoke on mill problems.

The Very New Hats Arrived Only Today

THE NEW YEAR brings entirely new styles in millinery that every woman must promptly become familiar with, if she is to be smartly attired. There is the helmet crown that is so new and so fashionable. The peaked crown has already become a little familiar. The latest trick with a peaked hat is to cut in panels that are filled with flowers—and of course, these little panels are near the peak. These fashion notes are important—for a smart hat can work wonders with one's costume.

Our new displays are here. Miss Gantter has just returned from the market, and new hats have been arriving for two days. You will see all the latest styles here tomorrow. There are new models for snowy days—gay color notes that will set off a dark coat so well. The woman who plans a trip to Florida or California will find straw hats here for her vacation.

These new hats are of special interest as they start a new season in millinery. You are invited to see them tomorrow.

A Novel Fashion in New Woolens is Introduced

A stunning new style has just been originated in flannels for frocks to wear in the Winter and Spring months. These new materials are 56 inches wide. A width is used as the length from the shoulder to the hem of a frock.

These fabrics are patterned so that the dress will have a design of vertical stripings, with the added smartness of matching cross bars from the waistline to the hem of the skirt. The skirt presents a plaid effect, while the bodice will have only vertical stripings. These materials come in rust, cocoa, tan and green. $6 a yard.
